software:. Download DAEMON Tools_iSCSI 6.3.419 Multilingual macOS A: In Linux you could try either gddrescue or ddrescue. In Linux, you will need to install gddrescue first. sudo apt-get install gddrescue Then in Windows you could use Rufus. Q: Angular4 SPA application can't call http service in new window I'm working on Angular 4 SPA application using angular-cli. In this app i want to call nodejs http service in a new window. I have created a nodejs http service and it is working fine. This is the service that i want to call in new window var http = require('http'); module.exports = function() { return { hello } } This is my config for nodejs http service in angular-cli.json "scripts": [
"./node_modules/@angular/cli/node_modules/http-server/bin/http-server.js", "http-server.conf" ], This is the code i used to call the service in my component.ts this.http.post("", jsonData).subscribe( (data) => { console.log(data); }, (err) => { console.log(err) } ); I have tried using window.open() in my component.ts file also. But it's not working A: Your call for the service is asynchronous and will get executed once the function completes. This means that if you call the service in the component's constructor, the call is made
